

Global Head of Corporate Access

As Global Head of Corporate Access, you will shape how Danske Bank's Equities organisation connects clients with strategic opportunities across markets and locations. This is an opportunity to lead a global function that plays an important role in client engagement, commercial delivery and cross-functional collaboration across Equities.

What you will be doing

You will lead a geographically distributed Corporate Access team, working closely with colleagues across Equities and relevant stakeholders. The function sits at the heart of our client engagement model, and your work will shape how we connect institutional investors with the companies, subject matter experts and investment opportunities that matter to them. You will collaborate with senior stakeholders across business lines and geographies to align the Corporate Access offering with the commercial direction of Equities. In this role, you will have the ultimate ownership over large investor event such as seminars, as we as global thematic investor trips.

Your responsibilities:

- Define and execute the global Corporate Access strategy across relevant Equities locations.
- Lead and develop a distributed team, setting clear performance standards and accountability.
- Balance global priorities with local market requirements to ensure consistent, high-quality delivery.
- Build and maintain senior relationships across Equities and other relevant business areas.
- Identify opportunities to expand service capabilities and improve value for institutional investors and corporate clients.
- Establish governance frameworks, performance measures and operational standards globally.
- Drive process improvements and digitalisation initiatives across locations.

About you

- Strong understanding of institutional financial markets, corporate access services and client engagement models.
- Experience leading teams in an international, matrix-based organisation.
- Strategic and commercial judgement with the ability to translate priorities into delivery.
- Strong communication, stakeholder management and influencing skills.
- Experience with organisational development, transformation and continuous improvement.
- Ability to balance global priorities with local market requirements.

If you also bring experience from capital markets across relevant European markets, that would be a welcome addition to the team.

What we offer you

This role offers genuine scope to shape a global function within a bank that takes its Markets ambitions seriously. You will work in a hybrid model, typically spending three to four days a week in the office alongside your colleagues. We are committed to your continued development, and you will have access to learning opportunities and a collaborative environment where different perspectives are genuinely valued.

Are you ready for the next step?

If this role resonates with you, we would be glad to hear from you. Please reach out to hiring manager Asbjørn Nicholas Mørk at asb@danskebank.dk with any questions related to the role.

Last day to apply is 11th of December.
We review applications on an ongoing basis, so we encourage you to apply as soon as possible as the position may be filled before the application deadline.

We look forward to hearing from you!
