

Finance Business Partner – Offshore Wind Industry

Are you passionate about offering strategic financial support to your colleagues? Do you want to work in the green offshore wind industry where your skills and expertise will help secure a sustainable future based on renewable energy? Then you might be the Finance Business Partner we are looking for.

Cadeler is a global partner in offshore wind farm construction and maintenance, and we are part of an industry that is now, more than ever, both relevant and in high demand. As our industry continues to grow, so do we! We are now looking for a Finance Business Partner to help key stakeholders in Cadeler make strong financial decisions by providing them with relevant insights and support.

What you will do

As our new Finance Business Partner, you will be a part of a committed finance team in the greater Cadeler Community. You will develop strong relationships across the organization and act as a trusted advisor.

Your main tasks include:

- Driving and facilitating follow-up related to financial planning, controlling, budgeting, and forecasting processes throughout the organization.
- Developing reporting processes and assisting in developing dashboards and automated reports using a variety of tools and systems.

- Performing strategic financial analysis to identify business opportunities.
- Directing standardization, efficiency, and the improvement of recurring reporting processes.
- Assisting with compliance and external auditing activities.

To succeed in this role

Being part of the Cadeler community means you will have a natural interest and care for the environment and our shared mission to speed up the green energy transition. Your environmental considerations and the safety of our people and the planet will be a key priority in your daily work.

We are looking for an analytical and process-oriented profile, who is comfortable working in a small team, but with a large interface of stakeholders to support. You bring in a lot of great energy to your surroundings and you enjoy being part of a collaborative, informal and fun team. You are flexible and quickly adapt to new tasks and routines and you have excellent planning skills. You are passionate about reporting and enjoy being creative in designing new dashboard layouts.

We think you will be a good match if you have some of the following competencies:

- 2-7 years work experience in a related field.
- Academic background in Finance, Economics or Business
- Digitally agile across different platforms and systems incl. MS Office application (Excel, PowerPoint etc.).
- Interest and flair for Business Intelligence and data warehouses. Experience with Power BI and SQL is an advantage.
- Fluency in English, written and spoken.

Come work with us!

By becoming a Cadeler employee, you will be part of a rapidly growing company with a diverse and energetic team. We offer an exciting position working alongside a dedicated team focused on delivering excellence in the face of exciting new challenges. We take pride in having a positive and rewarding work environment in an international company with great development possibilities.

Cadeler is headquartered in Copenhagen, but we also have offices in the UK, US, and APAC as well as colleagues working offshore aboard our fleet of Wind Turbine Generator (WTG) installation vessels.
