

Senior Business Analyst for Group Market Data Management

Join our Group Market Data Management team and help shape how market data is used across one of Northern Europe's leading financial institutions. You will work with stakeholders from Markets to Personal Banking, navigating complex data needs whilst supporting our Forward '28 strategy. This role offers excellent opportunities to expand your knowledge of market data solutions.

What You Will Be Doing

Working at the intersection of business, suppliers and IT, you will collaborate with a dedicated team of experts focused on finding the right market data fit by balancing price, service, quality and coverage. You will manage relationships with major international providers and smaller specialised suppliers, working closely with colleagues across the bank to ensure contracts deliver value and identify commercial opportunities.

- Manage your own stakeholder portfolio across the organisation
- Translate complex business needs into market data requirements
- Manage a portfolio of external market data providers
- Identify synergies for more efficient market data use
- Run strategic projects involving third-party market data
- Match business requirements with relevant external data offerings
- Negotiate commercial terms balancing price, quality and value
- Collaborate with procurement, legal, technology teams and stakeholders

About You

- Master's degree in finance, business, IT, law or relevant field

- Minimum 5 years' experience in banking or financial sector
- Strong stakeholder management skills across organisational levels
- Solid negotiation, procurement or contractual skills
- Clear and professional communication in English
- Structured approach with attention to detail
- Collaborative mindset motivated by team success

Experience with financial data analysis, vendor management or contract management would be valuable additions to your profile.

What We Offer You

You will join an international team based in Copenhagen and Vilnius with high ambitions and strong expertise. We offer flexible working arrangements, excellent opportunities for learning and career progression, and a supportive collaborative environment where your contributions create value for the entire Danske Bank Group.

Are you ready for the next step?

We would love to hear from you if this opportunity resonates with your career goals. For more information, please contact Nils Lundsby at nill@danskebank.dk.

We process applications continuously, so we encourage you to apply sooner rather than later. We look forward to hearing from you!
