

Start Your Analyst Career within LC&I Capital, Denmark

Do you want to be part of shaping the future of one of the leading Nordic wholesale banks while accelerating your professional skillset? Do you wish to empower our business unit servicing the largest and most sophisticated corporate & institutional customers in Danske Bank to drive impactful change? Then this is your opportunity to join us in the LC&I Capital team within Large Corporates & Institutions (LC&I).

But first, who are we at Danske Bank?

Danske Bank, the largest bank in Denmark, serves a diverse range of customers from individuals and businesses to institutional clients. At Danske Bank, we create an environment where creativity and strategic thinking are central to all our activities.

LC&I supports Danske Bank's largest and most complex customers across the Nordics with their financing and transaction needs. Corporate & Institutional Banking (CIB) is the coverage team for these customer relationships within LC&I.

LC&I Capital, which is part of CIB, has the overall responsibility for optimising capital and balance sheet allocation while ensuring sound risk/reward both from a transaction and a portfolio perspective. We are a small team of analysts collaborating with relationship and product units on live customer transactions as well as analysing portfolio developments in order to enhance the risk-adjusted return of the overall business.

The team is based on Copenhagen and works closely with colleagues across the Nordics and other locations in a performance-oriented, flat-structured workplace, offering great opportunities to impact central business decisions.

Key Responsibilities

You will gain a strong understanding of wholesale and investment banking and will learn how customer needs are met in a market-driven environment. You will also become an expert in the key risk/reward considerations for efficient capital and balance sheet allocation within LC&I and through this be able to support key decision making.

We expect you to be motivated to learn, have an innovative mindset, and not be afraid of asking questions. If you check these boxes, within the first year you will get to:

- Build relationships and foster collaboration with your colleagues
- Become an integral and dependable part of your team
- Take responsibility of exciting and important tasks

This is an opportunity to accelerate your career by working with financial experts across many different areas and receiving support from inspiring leaders. In our respectful, inclusive culture, we collaborate to achieve team goals. Within your first year, you will gain deep knowledge of LC&I and build a strong network across the Nordics.

Who We Are Looking For

You have recently or are close to finalising your Master's degree in economics, financing or similar. You enjoy being part of a dynamic environment and thrive in a job with both high degrees of freedom, but also high expectations. You are analytical, driven, a team player, curious and able to communicate complex messages in an easily understandable way. You have experience in working with data and spreadsheets, and either have or are willing to learn basic programming (SQL/SAS).

Benefits of Starting Your Career with Us:

You will become part of the onboarding talent program YoungMinds@LC&I where you will attend sessions and social events that ensure a smooth onboarding into the operations and culture of LC&I. The program is designed to enhance both your personal and professional growth, gain valuable insights into the various areas within LC&I and build connections and network across. A rewarding salary structure, comprehensive health benefits, and various perks. A balanced work environment supporting personal and professional success and opportunities to build and nurture relationships, becoming a vital member of the team.

Could You Be Our Next Team Member?

We would like you to start as soon as possible and on September 1st 2026, you will then roll into the YoungMinds@LC&I programme, offering a chance to build a useful network within the bank and providing a professional way to get to know our organisation.

If you want to jump at this opportunity, please apply by sending your CV, university transcript, and a motivational letter no later than February 27, 2026
